

Medicare Discussed to Kiwanis

Economy Is Acting Like the Weather

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — The two hottest things this year have been the weather and the economy, and there is a good chance that neither will cool much until fall.

Temperatures can be forecast closely and measured exactly. But what happens when Washington blows coolants on the economy? It's not nearly as precise.

Inflation is a pickpocket, President Johnson says, but a recession resulting from too much anti-inflation would be a housebreaker.

The economy has been booming now for six years and its fever is measured in the highest interest rates in 40 or 45 years.

As some economists view it, the nation is demanding too much from its body, perhaps pushing itself beyond its ability to fulfill its wishes.

Should demand be cooled? How? By high interest rates, taxes, less government spending? And how should the medicine be measured out when you consider that an overdose could provoke a recession?

The burden of slowing demand so far has been on interest rates — monetary policy — and much of the banking community is angry. Few people like high interest for long. The banks of course get more for their money but they pay more, too. They feel the government should cut spending and perhaps increase taxes. In other words, use fiscal policy as a coolant.

The administration, naturally, has been slow to move in this election year.

First, there is a dangerous time lag between application of restraints and the time they take effect. Some of the Federal Reserve's restrictive monetary policies of many months ago, for example, are just now cutting into demand.

Secondly, there is much disagreement among the experts on the potential effect of any measure.

Proof that the same figures mean different things are the economic predictions of last December, supposedly scientifically arrived at and now being revised — scientifically.

Focus on this variety of interpretation came this week from the First National City Bank, the third largest in the nation, which broke ranks with much of the banking fraternity and suggested that perhaps we've been misreading the economic signs.

Maybe demand is not excessive, the bank said. Perhaps inflation can be checked by encouraging productivity growth rather than by checking demand too harshly.

"Raising personal income taxes again — on top of higher Social Security and state and local taxes — would reduce the incentives for work while whetting demands for higher wages," it said.

"There is a danger," it cautioned, "to over-reacting to increases in widely publicized indexes." Perhaps, it suggested, we should stop bickering over the economic pie and simply bake a bigger one.

Arkansas Man Saves Girl

LAKE CHARLES, La. (AP)—Philip R. Carr of Little Rock, an Army Reservist who was on duty at Fort Polk, La., has been credited with preventing a Labor Day tragedy here.

Carr, a University of Arkansas student, gave mouth-to-mouth resuscitation to a 10-year-old girl after she was pulled from a motel swimming pool.

Allen St. Martin, supervisor of math instruction for the Calcasieu Parish schools, said Carr "just jumped in and took over" as a horrified holiday crowd of 40 looked on. "His quick action saved her life," St. Martin said.

Her boyfriend, John Barrow, 23, of Philadelphia, is training at the Marine Officers Candidate School in Quantico, Va. Gale said that Barrow had bragged about her to his buddies.

So they sent her the letter of encouragement to Atlantic City, where she is competing in the pageant.

A Revolution in Education at Whitby

GREENWICH, Conn. (AP) — An educational revolution is under way at the Whitby School in this wealthy Fairfield County community—a revolution that so far involves only nine pupils. These nine, and the 200 high schoolers that eventually will be enrolled in Whitby, are the first in their age group in the United States to be taught under the Montessori system.

Named after Maria Montessori, the Italian educator who devised the system, the method emphasizes free physical activity and informal and individual instruction.

Whitby is a private, coeducational school administered by Roman Catholic laymen. It has used the Montessori method since it started in 1958 with 18 pupils. There are 200 pupils at the school now, all but the nine high schoolers enrolled in what is equivalent to the elementary level.

Last September, without fanfare, Whitby pushed its program to the high school freshman level when the ninepupils crossed from the lower level.

"Whitby is more than a school," says John P. Blessington, the school's headmaster, "it is a movement." Whitby "has become a leader in the national reappraisal of the science of learning."

Blessington, 33, says many educational leaders throughout the country encouraged Whitby to move forward into the higher grades.

The plan calls for establishment of a 10th-grade level this fall, bringing the high school enrollment to about 40. The 11th and 12th grades will be added in the next two years, providing a full high school curriculum to about 200 students by 1968.

The Montessori method leaves pupils more or less on their own, although under the guidance of teachers who prepare the educational environment, direct activity and function as authority.

At Whitby, the high school pupil works with a one-month "contract" outlined by the teacher, telling what the pupil is expected to accomplish in a variety of subjects.

It is up to the pupil to work things out for himself. He can neglect chemistry, for example, for a few weeks to concentrate on another subject. But he is expected to finish what has been outlined for him in chemistry by the end of the month.

The study of literature has its "required reading" list as in other high schools but the system is flexible.

One of the high-schoolers at Whitby, going through the library shelves, picked out a novel by Graham Greene, liked it and then read everything he could find by that author.

New Trial for Arkansan

MARION, Ind. (AP) — Glenn Stewart, 30, a Marion, Ind., factory worker, was granted a new trial date Tuesday in connection with the Mother's Day slaying of a neighbor's husband.

Stewart, who gave himself up after a day-long manhunt near Arkadelphia, Ark., and Mrs. Edith Louise Schmidt, 25, are charged in the mutilation slaying of her husband, Larry, 30.

Roy Dempsey, Stewart's court-appointed attorney, requested the new date to study the case. Grant Circuit Court Judge Manuel Guerrero set the trial for Nov. 28. It was scheduled for Sept. 12.

Mrs. Schmidt, a mother of two, will be arraigned on murder charges Thursday. She was arrested May 22.

Uncanny But Everything Going to Cans

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON

NEW YORK (AP) — You run to the cupboard to get down a can of dress and hat, a can of mink, and a wee can of pearls. Your husband asks if you will please get him that six-pack of ties on the shelf.

Because you are expecting a guest you may also reach for a vacuum packed chair, and for use in case the conversation grows stale, several cans of fresh air.

For pleasant background you know you can always count on your canned music.

This could be you today, as uncanny as it sounds.

Grandma may have quit preserving things with her boiling pots, jars, rubber rings and paraffin. But the industry she fostered marches on. The pressurized tin cylinder, standard equipment in the bride's kitchen and the doughboy's duffelbag, and the recent flip-top darling of the beverage industry, now store more than mere food and drink.

Wednesday, September 7, 1966

Recently a dress manufacturer announced it is putting up its dresses and hats in cans. The label matches the lively clashing colors and kaleidoscopic patterns of the garments inside. When the lid pops off, wrinkleproof, nylon fabric oozes out like shaving cream. Besides floppy hats there are baby trapeze styles, dropped waistlines and body-molding fashions with kinky skirts.

It was a California manufacturer who decided to can men's ties, featuring a handy pack of six for the man who is wearing more than one.

Perhaps the choicest cannery in the country is the stockroom of a New York department store during its holiday season. There, in assembly line fashion a busy machine pops lids onto juice sized cylinders containing silk stockings, slacks, mink boas, jewelry, sweaters, sexy lingerie and bikinis.

Canned air is a favorite item sold in gift shops to people who still believe it's the sentiment that really counts.

Fancy candles, matches and puzzles are more nonedibles and nondrinkables sealed in round tins with prestigious labels.

TYE-BYRD RITES ARE SOLEMNIZED

The wedding of Miss Norma Jean Tye, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Tye to Bill Byrd, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Byrd, was solemnized on Tuesday, September 6 at 7 p.m. in the Unity Baptist Church with the Rev. Gordon Renshaw officiating.

The double-ring ceremony was performed beneath an arch of greenery flanked by candles and baskets of white gladiolus. Miss Maria Jones, pianist played a program of pre-nuptial music. This included "The Lord's Prayer" as the candles were lighted by Miss Pat Walton and Jim Byrd, brother of the bridegroom.

Mr. Tye gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a white suit with a single strand of pearls as her only jewelry. Pinned to her streetlength attire was the wedding band of the groom's great-grandmother. The bride carried flour d'amour and white pom pom mums centered with a yellow throat white orchid.

Miss Jackie Kidd was the bride's honor attendant. She wore a two-piece dress of beige and white. It was street-length with long sleeves. She carried a bouquet of yellow gladiolus and lemonleaf fern.

W. H. Byrd was his son's best man. Ushers were Jim Byrd, and Gene Robinson.

Mrs. Tye, mother of the bride, wore olive green with black accessories and pinned yellow mums at her shoulder. The mother of the groom, Mrs. Byrd, chose to wear a navy dress with burgandy accessories, and her corsage was of fleur d'amour. Mrs. J. H. Byrd of Panhandle, Tex., grandmother of the bridegroom, was attired in raspberry brocade with black accessories and had a rosebud corsage in deep pink.

Following the wedding a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Jones. Hurricane lamps lighted the path to the door where a bridal bouquet was placed as decoration. Mrs. Jones greeted the guests and introduced the receiving line, which included the wedding couple, their parents, and wedding attendants.

In the dining room guests were served cake and punch by Miss Maria Jones and Miss Pat Wilton. The serving table was covered with white tulle and lace over a background of silver peau de soie. HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

SAUCE FOR THE GOOSE IS

Dear Helen: The other day while discussing courtesy with our children, all pre-teens, and their friends, I was surprised when one of them said, "Adults are funny. They are always running down kids, but they're rude too. When we go to the store to buy things, they shove us aside, or talk louder than we do, so they will be waited on first, even if we're there first. Sometimes we have to wait and wait and wait, just 'cause we're polite." I actually went to the ice cream store and watched, and can you imagine? Eight out of ten adults did just that!

Perhaps I may have done the same thing without thinking sometime. It's easy to push ahead of little folks. If the people who yell about the young generation would take a good look at themselves, they might learn that kids have to be a little pushy sometimes, to be noticed. — H.T.

Dear H.T.: Since your letter arrived, I've been watching, too. Would advise my adult readers to do likewise, and think: if it's sauce for the goose, is it "saucy" in the goshing? — H.

Dear Helen: Every time this woman calls on the phone, she's full of gossip, and is always ripping someone apart. Her language is vile. What a mouth!

The same people she says she can't stand, are the ones you see her out in the car with the next day, real chummy. And then she's

No-Sex Vow Troublesome to League

READING, England (AP) — So many teen-age girls want to take a no-sex vow that Reading's League of Honor is in danger of collapse.

"It's all become too big for our small society to handle," said organizer Fred Jackman, 50.

Jackman, who has two teenage daughters, is secretary of the Reading Temperance Society, which founded the league several months ago. Girls were invited to sign a form pledging to renounce sex outside marriage, and encourage other youngsters to do the same.

The pledge became known locally as "the virgins' charter."

Word of its existence spread to other parts of England and to countries overseas. The result, said the worried organizer, was that hundreds of girls wrote to Reading asking for copies of the pledge. It is becoming just too much work for Jackman.

"What we need now," he told a reporter, "is someone interested in the scheme to take over as national secretary. Unpaid, I'm afraid."

And if that were all, it would be easy to predict that the shows, as a whole, would be no more impressive or stimulating than those of last season, which will certainly not go into the books as one of television's golden years.

Fortunately, the three major networks are in competition to leaven their schedules — and perhaps coincidentally polish their images — with an especially large number of special programs.

ABC, for instance, is engaged in the production of an impressive series that will amount to weekly specials under the title of "Stage '67." These range from original dramas and musical comedies to documentaries. Ingrid Bergman will appear in a one-character drama, "The Human Voice," and Truman Capote will narrate an adaptation of his "Christmas Memory" among other off-beat entries.

There will be productions of such plays as Arthur Miller's "The Crucible," Tennessee Williams' "Streetcar Named Desire" and "The Glass Menagerie" and Noel Coward's "Billie Spirits," to mention a few on all networks.

There will be special reruns of recent hit motion pictures, including "The Music Man" and "Bridge on the River Kwai." There will be a 90-minute production of the Lerner - Loewe musical, "Brigadoon," — and many more.

Jungle Highway

A 1,550-mile highway, 26 miles longer than the Alaskan Highway, is being slashed out of dense Amazon jungles to open up Peru's far east, long isolated by the rugged Andes from the narrow coastal strip where most of the country's population lives. Named the "Carretera Marginal," the road is costing some $90,000 a mile, financed in part by the Peruvian government and part by U.S. AID and the Export-Import Bank. It is expected to pay for itself many times over, opening up one of South America's richest agricultural regions and providing cheap land on a gigantic scale for Peru's impoverished farmers.

A wide, new bridge replaces a ramshackle old structure, left, across a jungle river. Heavy machinery had to be ferried from the Atlantic 1,500 miles up the Amazon River system to the jungle construction sites.

STREET SCENES in Pleiku, key base for U.S. forces in South Viet Nam, show the American influence at work. At left, a tailor ran into a spelling problem in trying the Madison Avenue approach in advertising his wares. Above, a Vietnamese woman appears pleased with what seems to be a booming business she's developed—raising an inspection-ready shine on GI boots.

STAMPS TO STAMP OUT hunger are rolling off the presses in Washington, where the Department of Agriculture is busy turning out food stamps. The food stamp pilot project was launched in 1961 and since then over a million people in 38 states and the District of Columbia have taken advantage of the program. Low income families, certified in need of food assistance by state welfare agencies, exchange the amount of money they normally spend on food for coupons, which are worth more than the actual money paid for them. The coupons are spent like cash at retail food stores. Photo at left shows two coupons now in use while Bureau of Engraving officials, right, check a freshly printed batch. Agriculture Department leaders feel that better food results in improved diets for families enrolled in the program.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Reach for Glass of Water
Instead of Cigarette

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

A reader asks how he can quit smoking. In order to get a line on this question a group of teen-agers were asked why they smoked. A surprising number answered that they really didn't like to smoke but did so because they wanted to be one of the crowd. Unfortunately, they forget that the people that the world has always admired most are the ones who stand out from the crowd. Some persons who have smoked for 20 or 30 years say, "I know it is a loathsome, costly and dangerous habit but I just can't kick it."

Deep down these people know that, if they want to badly enough, they could kick it but they are the ones who never quite believe that nicotine poisoning will affect their heart or their lungs. It may kill some other guy but it won't kill them.

I would say to them: Is it really necessary to have a heart attack or develop emphysema or lung cancer to make you decide to quit smoking?

One aid to stopping is to reach for a glass of water instead of a cigarette. During the first five or six days of going without smoking you should also avoid alcohol. Those who adopt this plan find themselves drinking seven or eight glasses of water a day. This helps to flush the nicotine and other by-products of smoking out of the system. Sweet drinks will help prevent the drop in blood sugar that occurs when you stop smoking. A cold shower and a brisk rubdown will tone up your circulation, which has been impeded by smoking.

When you feel that you just have to inhale, go outdoors and inhale a lungful of fresh air. This and a brisk walk of 10 minutes or longer after each meal are recommended substitutes for the usual postprandial cigarette. Remember, too, that adequate rest is essential. Fatigue and jittery nerves will increase your desire for a smoke and at the same time weaken your resistance.

Antismoking clinics promote a group spirit that may help some persons but experience shows that their relapse rate is high. There is no substitute for a strong desire to stop. Although we all know that life must come to an end sometime let's not hasten it by indulging in senseless habits.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Q—Who was the oldest U.S. vice president at the time of his inauguration?

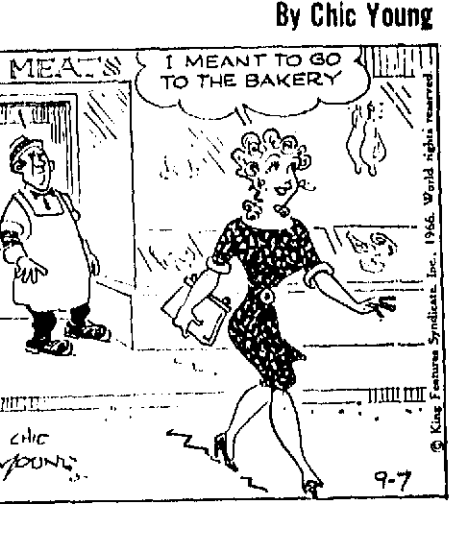

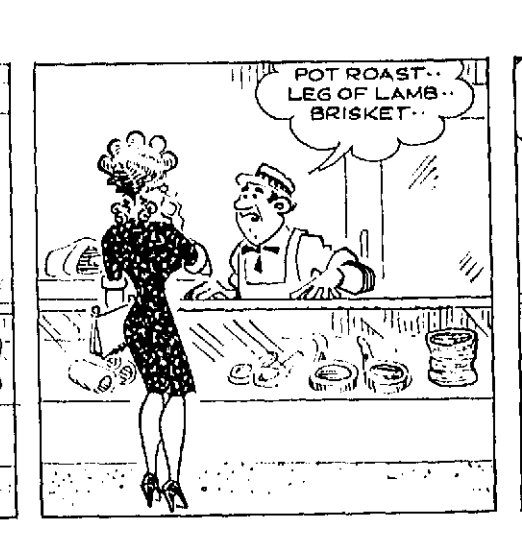

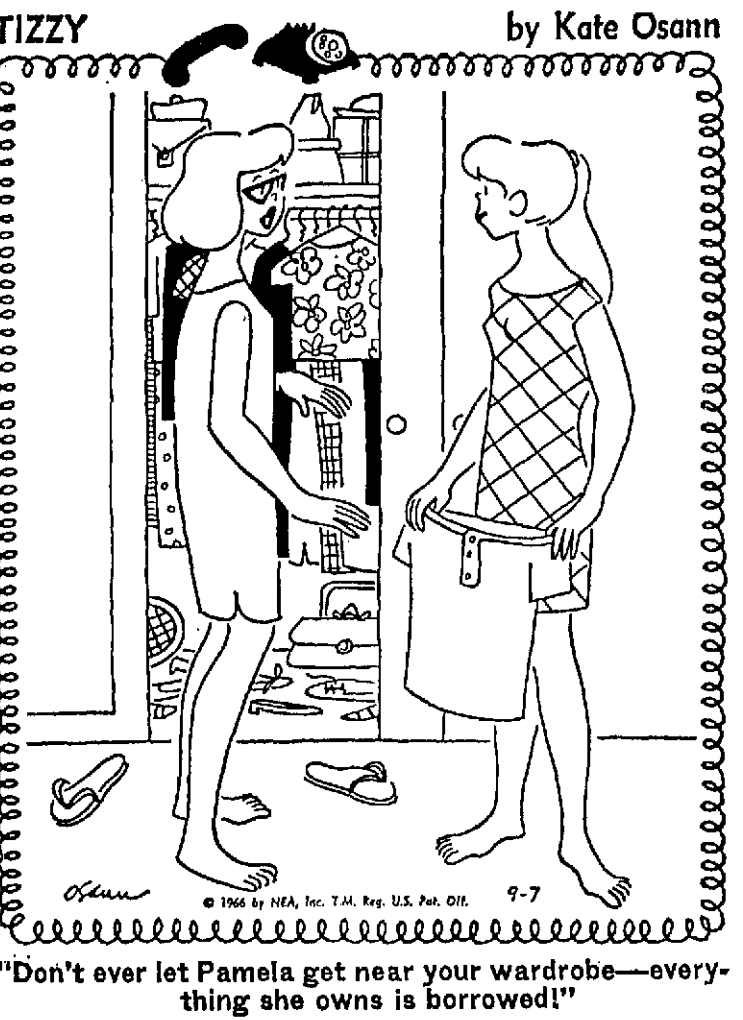

A—Alben Barkley, who was 71 years and 57 days old when he was inaugurated vice president under President Harry Truman.

Q—In the United States how far north is the cardinal seen locally?

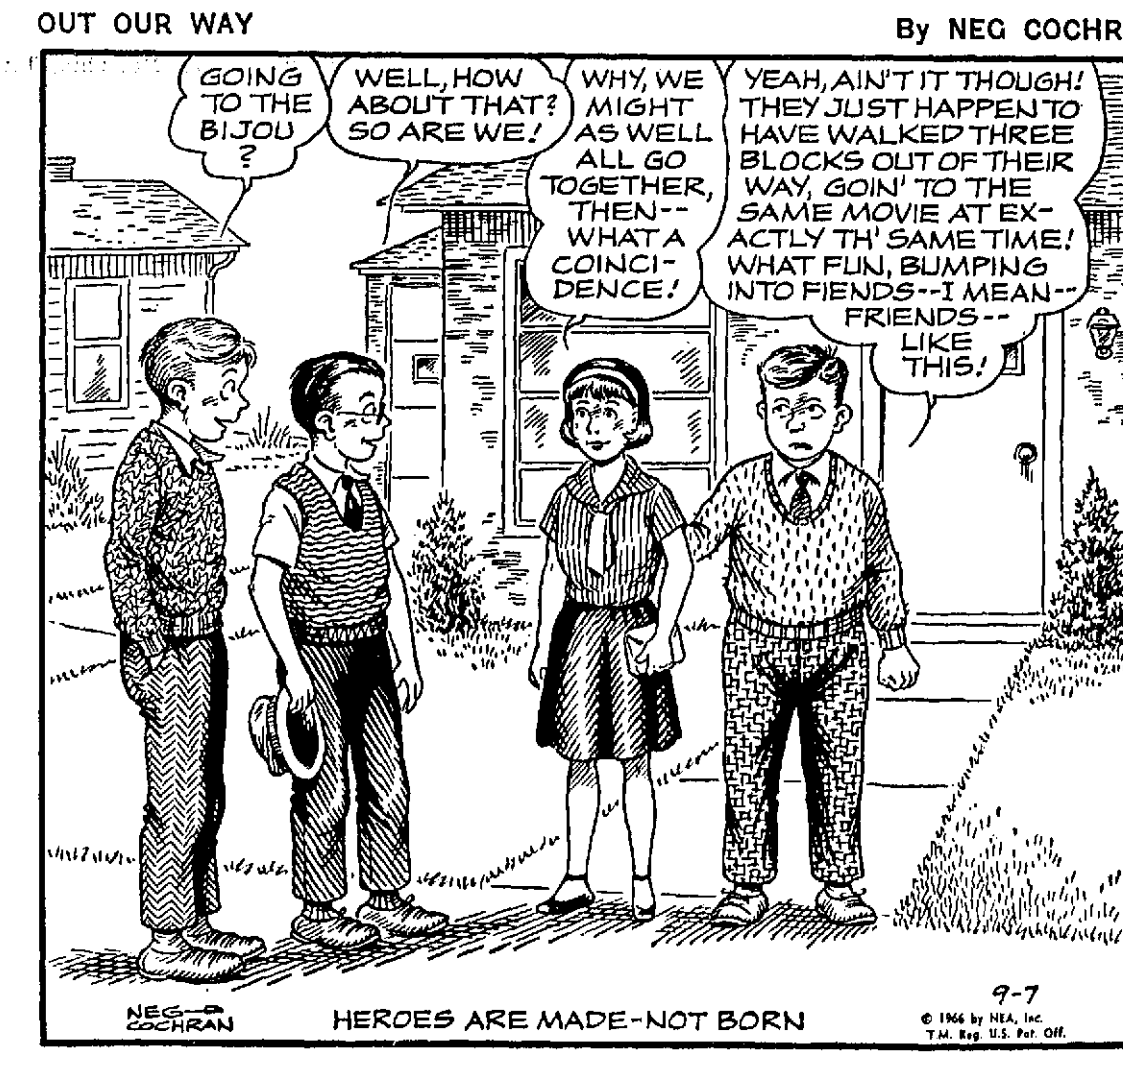

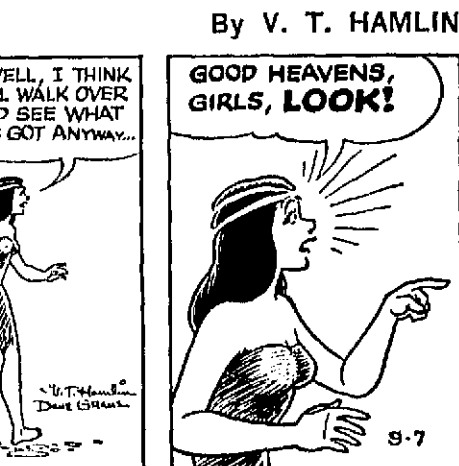

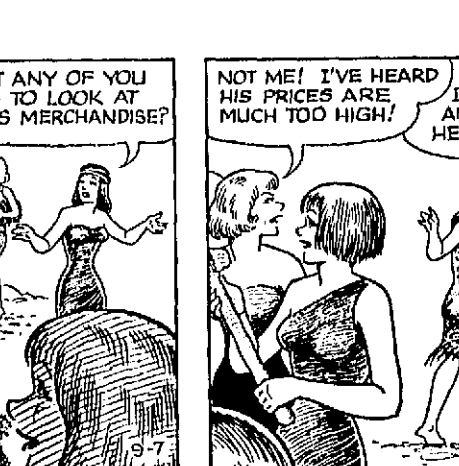

A—Though commonest in the southern United States, it is seen locally as far north as New York. It does not migrate, and a severe winter in the northern part of its range plays havoc with it.

The term Brahman was selected by the U.S. Department of Agriculture as the name of all breeds of Indian cattle in the United States. This type of cattle, characterized by a prominent hump above the shoulders, was imported from India into the United States as early as 1849. They were used in the Gulf coast area for crossing with other breeds of beef cattle to produce a type adapted to hot, humid conditions.

Oldtimers Get Win For California

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer
Kansas City wanted to give some schooling to a bunch of youngsters, but the lessons were given by a couple of California oldtimers.

The Athletics used a record number of players Tuesday, many of them just having completed their minor-league seasons. But timely hits by veterans Joe Adcock and Jimmy Piersall won the game for California, 4-3.

Adcock tripled in two runs and Piersall doubled across two more, all in the first inning, and that was all the Angels needed.

Starter Fred Newman gave up the three Kansas City runs in the second, but Clyde Wright and Bob Lee shut out the A's the rest of the way.

In all, the Athletics used 24 players, tying an American League record for a nine-inning game. The major-league mark is 25.

In other American League games, Baltimore beat New York 4-1, Detroit crushed Washington 8-2, Cleveland bumped Boston 6-2 and Minnesota edged Chicago 4-3 in 12 innings.

In the National League, Atlanta beat Pittsburgh 4-1, San Francisco dumped Los Angeles 6-0, New York took Cincinnati 3-2, Chicago crushed Philadelphia 7-2 and Houston slipped past St. Louis 4-3.

Paul Lindblad, just a rookie himself, was the victim of the Adcock-Piersall outburst. In the two-thirds of an inning he worked, he gave up three hits, four runs and three bases on balls. Five other Kansas City pitchers saw action before the night was through.

Dave Johnson, normally thought of as a glove man in the midst of the potent Baltimore attack, continued his hitting ways with three hits and two runs batted in.

In Monday's doubleheader, Johnson had five hits. Dave McNally stopped the Yanks on just six hits. Boog Powell took over the RBI leadership from teammate Frank Robinson at 103.

Denny McLain continued his return to form after his post-All Star Game slump and picked up his 18th victory. Don Wert and Bill Freehan each drove in three runs, both hitting two-run homers.

McLain gave up 11 hits, but had a shutout going into the seventh inning before singles by Don Lock and Paul Blair and an infield out broke it up. Gil Hodges argued so heatedly with umpire Al Salerno at a close play at first base that he was thrown out of a game for the first time in his baseball career.

Gary Bell threw a three-hitter at Boston and Max Alvis and Chico Salmon each drove in two runs for Cleveland. It was Bell's 14th victory against 11 losses.

Rocky Colavito broke out of a batting slump with his 29th homer and George Scott hit his 27th for the Sox.

Harmon Killebrew homered twice for the Twins, the second time in the ninth tying the game, but the winning blow came from Rich Rollins, a run-scoring single in the 12th. It drove in Jimmie Hall who had walked and moved to second when Cesar Tovar also drew a pass.

Bobcats Hit Road for Prescott

By LARRY DON WRIGHT
Hope Star Sports Writer

The Hope Bobcats, with a District 44A victory already under their belt, will hit the road this week for a meeting with a rough non-conference foe in the Prescott Curly Wolves Friday night.

The Bobcats had to mount a stout defensive effort to turn back Arkadelphia in their home debut and season opener at Hammons Stadium last Friday. The score of 14-0 might have been a bit deceiving but it was only deceiving in that it may have been more of a defensive battle than the score indicated.

Still there was no doubt in anyone's mind that the Cats were the stronger of the two teams on the field Friday.

Although this weeks opponent is from a lower classification, the Cats may, form all reports, find themselves with their hands full. The reports are that after last week's triumph over Stamp's the Curly Wolves are lauded as one of the best Class A teams in the state.

The Associated Press's weekly polls rates Prescott among the top 13 teams receiving votes in the Class A rankings after last week end's games.

The Curly Wolves had to make a comeback to down the rugged Stamp's crew 12-7, after trailing at the half by 7-6.

Prescott players to watch will be halfback Bob Rouse, tailback, David Pry, and quarterback Jackie Wilson, all starters from last year's squad.

The opening kick off is slated for 7:30 p.m. Friday at Prescott.

Eagles Trim Their Squad to 40 Limit

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia Eagles trimmed their squad to the National Football League limit of 40 Tuesday, cutting three players off the active roster, including veteran flanker Glen Glass.

Glass reportedly was trying to line up a job with the new Atlanta Falcons after Eagles coach Joe Kuharich gave him permission to make a deal for himself.

Also trimmed from the active roster were Trenton Jackson, a rookie flanker who was an Olympic sprinter at Illinois, and Taft Reed, a rookie defensive back from Jackson, Miss. State. Jackson was cleared on waivers by the other NFL clubs and Kuharich placed him on the taxi squad.

Candidates are not allowed to apply directly for a Nobel Prize. Each name must be offered in writing by a qualified person.

Giants Beat Dodgers in Vital Game

Herman Franks drew an ace from the bottom of the deck but Harry Walker's best cards all were trumped.

Ray Sadecki and Joe Torre divided the pot.

The stakes were high Tuesday night when Sadecki backed up Franks with a three-hit shutout, leading San Francisco to a 6-0 victory over Los Angeles, and Torre crossed up Walker with a three-run homer, powering Atlanta past Pittsburgh 4-1.

The Giants' victory boosted them into a virtual tie for second place with the Dodgers, 1 1/2 games behind the National League-leading Pirates.

The Braves reached the .500 mark for the first time since May 9 and tied Cincinnati for sixth place, 12 games off the pace.

Franks, the Giants' manager, cashed his bet on Sadecki when the 25-year-old left-hander scattered three singles and recorded his first victory in two months.

Sadecki had been a major disappointment to the Giants since they acquired him in an early-season trade that sent Orlando Cepeda to St. Louis. He went into Tuesday night's game with a 3.00 earned run average and only three complete games in 18 starts.

"Control has been his main trouble," catcher Tom Haller said. "But this time he had good control of his fast ball and his curve. He made only a couple of mistakes."

Asked when he had last pitched a shutout, Sadecki replied: "That's a good question. You'll have to look it up in an old record book."

Walker, the Pirates' pilot, gambled against Torre in the eighth inning of a 1-1 deadlock. Felipe Elou drew a lead-off walk against southpaw Bob Veale and Denis Menke sacrificed. Walker then ordered an intentional walk to Hank Aaron, bringing Torre to the plate.

"I know Torre's a tough out," Walker said afterward, "but I was hoping for the double play."

In other NL games, New York edged Cincinnati 3-2, Houston nipped St. Louis 4-3 and Chicago upended Philadelphia 7-2.

Baltimore trimmed New York 4-1, Cleveland beat Boston 6-2, Detroit slugged Washington 8-2, Minnesota shaded Chicago 4-3 in 12 innings and California topped Kansas City 4-3 in American League action.

Sadecki pitched perfect ball against the Dodgers for four innings, did not issue a walk and was never in trouble while improving his season record to 5-7.

The Giants raked loser Don Drysdale and two successors for 15 hits, including a two-run homer by Willie Mays and a three-run double by Tito Fuentes.

After Torre's three-run shot sent Atlanta ahead, Walker lost another strategy match in the Pirates' eighth.

Don Clendenon, another right-hand hitter, then swung for Matty Alou and Hitchcock called in right- ander Jay Ritchie. Ritchie fanned Clendenon, then retired Gene Alley on a grounder to end the inning and protect Jarvis' third victory in four decisions.

Dennis Ribant retired the first 15 batters he faced and finished with a six-hitter as the Mets held off Cincinnati, breaking a five-game losing string. Ken Boyer's two-run single capped a three-run burst in the first inning for New York.

John Bateman rapped four straight hits and the Astros capitalized on St. Louis errors for two runs in the second inning and two more in the seventh. Charley Smith, whose error opened the gates, in the seventh, doubled a run in and scored on Tito Francona's pinch single in the ninth but the rally fell short.

Ferguson Jenkins checked Philadelphia on three hits before giving way to Bob Hendley in the ninth, while Billy Williams' 27th homer and three hits by Don Kessinger led the Cubs' attack.

Between you'n'me

By MURRAY OLDERMAN
Sports Editor
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Ostensibly, the course of the whole 1966 National Football League season could be decided in one evening. The Baltimore Colts meet the Green Bay Packers for openers Saturday night, Sept. 10, in Milwaukee.

Here's the significance: The two strongest teams in football are the Colts and the Packers (did I hear a faint outcry from Chicago?). The pattern the last two years has been that whichever won the regular season series went on to dominate the West.

But you can read a lot more into the opening game than a mere meeting of good football teams with championship aspirations. It sets the tone for a revolutionary season in pro football.

This is the Year of the Merger.

It is also the Year of the Busted Blackout. And the $711,000 halfback. And the gold crossbars. It is also the year Jimmy Brown retired in his prime, and pro football invaded television's prime time.

Let's take them item-by-item. The impending merger of the National and American Football Leagues has titillated a public already gone berserk over the controlled violence of the pro game. Now the Colts don't just try to beat the Packers to win the West and conquer the East. They've added the dimension of a championship game with the AFL, the Super Bowl.

Starting the season on a Saturday night is a symptom of pro football's popularity and cockiness. It is invading the prime time of television on three different occasions this year (the Colt-Packers item, a Monday night game and a Thanksgiving night offering).

The number of games on a full national telecast has been doubled from three to six, with the addition of those prime time spectaculars.

The cost-per-minute to the sponsor has gone up this year from $60,000 to $70,000. Hence the pros have made a concession in their long-standing policy against home television, competing with home games. This year, to assuage the hard-paying sponsors, outside games are being beamed into the home team's area. For instance, while the Washington Redskins are entertaining the Pittsburgh Steelers, it's possible the guy sitting at home in the nation's capital might see the Cleveland Browns play the New York Giants.

Furthermore, there will be eight television doubleheaders in all to saturate the market.

From a playing standpoint, the NFL has lost its greatest superstar, Jimmy Brown, captured by that other medium, the movies. It's like the Beatles going long hair (there is a difference). Now Jimmy Taylor of the Packers has a chance to grab off Brown's old role as the greatest fullback in the game.

He'll have to step lively, along with his sidekick, Paul Hornung. For on the bench, the Packers have over a million dollars of running talent as stand-ins for it sit-ins! Rookie halfback Donny Anderson will collect some $711,000 for his services over the next few years and fullback Jim Grabowski figures to cash $350,000 worth of checks.

Five new coaches, a record turnover, will make their debut as NFL head men: Charley Winner in St. Louis, Bill Austin in Pittsburgh, Otto Graham in Washington and George Allen of Los Angeles against Norb Hecker in the expansion city of Atlanta.

More games than ever before will be presented in living color. And the goal post standards, raised from 10 feet to 20 feet above the crossbars, will be painted gold, for both visibility and decorative purposes. They'll sort of match the tone of the times.

It's a long way from the day Jim Thorpe, the old Sac-Fox Indian, stood on the running board of a touring car in Canton, Ohio, 46 years ago, and became the president of the longest lasting floating professional football league.

LINE—Credit Abe Gibrin with superb building job. Convinced bunch of nonentities they could handle anybody. Biggest touch of class comes from Mike Pyle at center. Besides Mike Rabold and Jim Cadillac (guards), Bob Wetoska and Herman Lee (tackles), Abe looks for help from George Seals and Palmer Pyle, maybe Riley Mattson and rookie Frank Cornish. RATING—B

KICKING—Booming punter in Bobby Jay Green, good as any, but quality drops off in placekicking, where Roger Leclerc wins job annually, almost by default. At least, he generally makes extra points. RATING—B-

DEFENSE

LINE—Retirement of end Doug Atkins was only a between-seasons thing. Lucky for Bears, because they need big Doug on flank. Dick Evey came strong on other side; Ed O'Bradovich might recapture form. Bit of shuffling going on at tackles, where incumbents Earl Leggett, Bob Kilcullen might give way to Seals and rookie named Franklin McRae. RATING—B

SECONDARY—Dave Whitsell, the right corner man, gets his annual write-off. This time Charlie Brown of Syracuse is nominated to take over. But Dave always manages to stick around. Other members of the cost unchanged: Bennie McRae, Roosevelt Taylor, Richie Petitbar. RATING—B+

SUMMARY—Because they were most sensational team in pro ball last two-thirds of season, Bears are feared. But they'll miss George Allen to guide defense. And can they expect as much again from Sayers and, particularly, Bukich? Rudy probably holds the key. PRE-DICTION—FOURTH.

JOHNNY CALLISON, Philadelphia right-hitter, has been on a batting rampage since coming classes recently. Callison had been in a slump before his visit to the eye doctor.

Civics Lesson

The American Federation of Teachers ended its convention at Chicago last week with a bristling assertion of teachers' rights, including the right to disobey. It called upon all teacher bargaining units to "demand and secure written contracts" that would guarantee, among other things, job security when the teacher utilizes any form of non-violent protest, such as civil disobedience against any immoral and unjust laws and policies of any public agency.

If teachers believe in civil disobedience, we suppose it follows that they will teach it. A segment of the clergy has done as much. If this seems to contradict the social studies textbooks that explain the processes of government, including the enactment, amending, and repeal of laws, the projected teacher contracts themselves seem to be paradoxical.

What good is a contract that includes a disobedience clause? A school board confronted with such a document might insist on signing it with invisible ink. — The Virginian - Pilot, Norfolk

Car Horn Blowers Will Face Arrest

Vienna public safety officials have defined four classifications for motorists who use their horns instead of their brakes. They are:

The boxers: Aggressive type who think all traffic space should be reserved for themselves.

The fearful: They use horns in every situation.

The lazy: Want to free themselves from responsibilities once they have honked at the other fellow.

Schoolteachers: Lean on the horn to advise other motorists of alleged traffic violations.

That just about covers the field of horn blowers. Vienna officials are planning to sock fines on those who blow except in emergencies.

For years Memphis, Tenn., was one of the quietest cities in the country. The police did exactly what Vienna is planning. They slapped sizeable fines on those who blasted off excessively.

Perhaps one of the worst offenders is the man, or the woman, who sits down on the horn to warn another driver or pedestrian who is in the way and then does not even bother to slow down. — Laurel (Miss.) Leader-Call.

Kindergarten Offered by Methodists

The Methodist Church has offered its building facilities for a weekday interdenominational kindergarten as a community service. This is in line with the policy followed by most large Methodist Churches.

The program to be followed in the kindergarten will strive to develop the physical, mental, and social-emotional traits of its pupils as preparation for formal schooling, and to strengthen and extend moral and spiritual values and Christian beliefs begun through the home and the church.

The school will be conducted in the building constructed especially for children, and that faces Second Street. The staff will be adequate.

Miss Kathleen Broach will be the director and Miss Evelyn Briant assistant. Miss Broach has her Bachelors and Masters degrees in Education, and has years of experience in Early Childhood education, having taught First, Second, and Third grades, as well as private Kindergarten.

Miss Briant is certified by the Board of Education of the Methodist Church to teach Nursery and Kindergarten children, and has spent years working with these age groups.

The school will open October Third. Children who will be four or five by October First will be admitted.

These melons were grown by Aubrey Goodwin of near Rosston who annually brings in big ones and is always in the running for the largest of the year. The largest in this group went 117 pounds. Incidentally, Mr. Goodwin brought one in yesterday that weighed 133 pounds, and this could easily be the biggest one of the year.

Apparently Richest States Get the Most in Defense Contracts

By BOB HORTON

WASHINGTON (AP) — California, New York and Texas — in that order — got the biggest slices of defense prime contract spending in fiscal 1966, Pentagon figures showed today.

California, heavy in aerospace and electronics industries, received $5.8 billion in prime contract awards — 18.3 per cent of the $35.7 billion spent for military goods or services in the fiscal year that ended last June 30.

New York's share in defense spending totaled $2.8 billion and Texas followed with $2.29 billion.

The Texas total was up $850 million over the previous year, due mainly to contract awards for helicopters ticketed for Viet Nam, California's total climbed an estimated $650 million and New York contracts rose by $570 million.

All 50 states and the District of Columbia got a chunk of the money put out by the Defense Department — biggest spender of federal funds — but aside from the top three only seven other states received over $1 billion in contracts.

These were Connecticut with $2.05 billion, Pennsylvania with $1.67 billion, Ohio $1.59 billion, Massachusetts $1.33 billion, Missouri $1.11 billion, New Jersey $1.09 billion and Indiana $1.07 billion.

Overall, prime contract awards surged upward by nearly $10 billion from fiscal 1965's $26.6 billion. Civil functions of the Army Corps of Engineers for flood control and rivers and harbors work were not included in the tabulation.

The Pentagon said the breakdown provides no direct indication of where the actual production work was done. For the most part, it said, state figures indicate where a product was processed and assembled or where construction or service was performed.

Fulton Man Hurt Badly in Wreck

House Takes Up Interest Limit Issue

By EDMOND LE BRETON

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House takes up interest-limiting legislation today in the face of deep disagreement among House Democrats and increasing talk of a tax increase to fight inflation.

The debate, expected to lead to a vote Thursday, is likely to range far beyond the scope of the two bills before the House. These are concerned only with damping down the competition between banks and savings and loan associations for home mortgage funds.

Some Democrats are seeking a compromise formula between a bill introduced by Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., chairman of the House Banking Committee, and another measure backed by the Treasury. Other members, however, contend neither bill goes far enough.

The object of both measures is the same — to keep the higher interest rates offered by commercial banks on time deposits from drying up the flow of savings into savings and loan associations, traditionally the main source of funds for the currently hard-pressed home building industry.

Patman's bill would set a 4 1/2 per cent ceiling on bank interest paid on time deposits of no more than $100,000. Time deposits are those left for a specified period and often are represented by negotiable receipts called certificates of deposit.

The caucus is expected to meet next week to select a new party leader who automatically will become prime minister. The party has almost a 3-1 majority in Parliament.

There was no announcement yet of funeral plans for Verwoerd, but Radio South Africa said he probably would be given a state funeral Friday in Pretoria, the administrative capital. The South African Press Association said the funeral probably would be held Saturday.

Following Verwoerd's assassination, Finance Minister Theophilus Dönges became acting prime minister. Dönges was considered a strong contender for the premiership.

Others mentioned as possible successors are Transport Minister Ben Schoeman, a former railroad worker who is leader of the House of Assembly, and Justice Minister Bathazar Vorster.

Vorster, at 51 one of the Cabinet's younger members, is likely to get support from extreme rightist elements in the ruling party.

Magazine Hits Trouble Quickly

LONDON (AP) — A little nautical magazine, called Ships Monthly, was launched in Britain by four enthusiasts last January. It quickly ran into financial trouble.

Prince Philip, a yachtsman, an enthusiastic reader of the journal, wanted to save it.

Prince Philip, Queen Elizabeth's husband, suggested that the magazine publish a supplement on Britain's National Maritime Museum, and he offered to write a long introductory article.

Editor J. H. Martin said gratefully Monday: "Thanks to a fair breeze from an utterly unexpected quarter, we are now clear of the rocks."

Police Patrol Atlanta Area Hit by Riots

By BEN CHESTER

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Armed policemen kept a tight patrol today in an area where about 500 Negroes, many shouting "black power!" rioted after an officer shot a Negro man wanted on a car theft charge.

At least 63 persons were arrested and 15 injured in recurrent disturbances Tuesday and Tuesday night in a predominantly Negro section near Atlanta's new sports stadium.

Police first attempted to quell the Negro outbreak—the worst the city has experienced — by firing shotguns and pistols into the air.

When this failed, tear gas canisters were fired into the milling crowds and the streets quickly cleared.

The injured included several persons suffering from effects of the tear gas and the wounded man who had fled officers on the car theft charge.

Louis Prather, a policeman also suffered a possible jaw fracture in the melee. Prather was listed in poor condition at a hospital with wounds in the hip and side.

Mayor Ivan Allen Jr., who rushed to the disturbance soon after shouting Negroes appeared, attempted to plead for order from the top of a police car.

Allen was nearly toppled from the car, which Negroes rocked back and forth. He finally was shouted down and jumped down from the car.

The mayor, anxious to preserve the city's image as being progressive and racially untroubled, dashed from place to place most of the night to investigate trouble reports.

Religious Fanatics Have Surrendered

MANILA (AP) — More than 1,000 followers of a religious fanatic have surrendered to government forces since a pitched battle Saturday in which six persons were killed.

The Philippine Constabulary said Victoriano Shagan, the self-styled "descendant of God," and several of his men were still at large.

Prisoners Nearly Got Out of Hand

CUMMINS PRISON FARM, Ark. (AP) — O. E. Bishop, state prison superintendent, said Tuesday that at one point during the Cummins convict strike "we thought things might be getting out of hand."

Bishop met with newsmen and photographers to comment on the strike, which ended Monday after State Police fired shots and tear gas into the barracks.

Bishop said the most volatile situation probably existed Friday night, when strikers attacked several inmates who apparently were reluctant to carry on with the strike. He said those who were attacked were not hurt.

The strike began Friday morning, and later in the day Gov. Orval Faubus visited Cummins. First word of the strike came from the governor that evening.

Bishop said he thought prisoners had assumed that the strap used for punishment had been abolished and decided to do whatever they pleased.

Nine of the strikers were whipped with the strap Monday morning before the others went back to work.

Bishop said 140 Negroes and 42 whites staged the strike, which Bishop termed simply a rebellion.

All but one, a white man, returned to the fields to work. He was put in solitary confinement, Bishop said.

Bishop said the convicts submitted a number of grievances covering working hours, quality of food and other items, including the way they are treated by the "line riders" — guards who are armed and ride horses.

Bishop said he would try to improve the quality of food, but that he thought little could be done about the other complaints.

Rockefeller Offers Help in Court Test of School Guidelines

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Republican Winthrop Rockefeller offered his help Tuesday night in making a court test of the federal government's guidelines for school desegregation.

In the first televised speech of the 1966 general election gubernatorial campaign Rockefeller said he resented the attitude of the U.S. Office of Education.

"I prefer to have the law interpreted by the courts instead of by the Office of Education," he said. "The Office of Education in Washington is substituting its judgment for the judgment of experienced and competent school administrators in Arkansas who have given their adult lives to the cause of education."

He said the federal agency, in most cases, refuses "to put its orders in writing. Instead they use long-distance telephone calls from Washington to verbally intimidate our school administrators."

He said he felt so strongly about this that he was willing to assist in "preparing and filing a test case in the courts to establish the legality and constitutionality of these guidelines, as they are being enforced in Arkansas."

Meanwhile, Jim Johnson, Rockefeller's Democratic opponent and a frequent critic of the federal government, accused the Republican Party of plagiarizing at least five planks from his platform.

These points in the GOP platform, Johnson said, were "taken direct" from his platform published during the Democratic primary campaign:

A four-year term for govern-nor; a public disclosure act to guarantee that public records are open for inspection; a study of the feasibility of granting credit for federal income tax paid in calculating income for state tax purposes; an independent audit of the Highway Department and removing the welfare program from politics.

Rockefeller proposed a televised debate with Johnson to discuss the campaign issues, "preferably in the next 15 days." His plan for such a debate would include listing in advance the issues which each candidate feels are the important ones facing Arkansas.

In other campaign developments during the day, Rockefeller announced that Jack Pickens of Little Rock, a longtime Democrat and staunch supporter of Gov. Orval Faubus, would be Rockefeller's finance director for a five-county area.

Pickens said he hoped to collect "$50,000 and up" in campaign funds from the area — Pulaski, Faulkner, Saline, Lonoke and Prairie counties.

Pickens, president and director of Pickens-Bond Construction Co., said he had always been a Democrat, but that political issues did not enter into his decision to support Rockefeller against Democratic nominee Jim Johnson.

Rockefeller also said that, if elected governor, he would probably hire a professional penologist to handle the state's prison system.

He said that as they are run now the prisons make money for the state. He said he would change this and try to rehabilitate prisoners instead.

Viet Nam Key to Tax Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., said Tuesday that Viet Nam holds the key to any tax increase. And even the Defense Department probably does not know what the needs will be, he added.

Mills, whose chairmanship of the Ways and Means Committee makes him the man most responsible for tax legislation, was asked in the House for his best judgment as to whether a tax increase would be requested before adjournment, at a special session after the election, or next year.

Cargo Plane in Forced Landing

MANILA, Ark. (AP) — A cargo plane from Blytheville Air Force Base made a forced landing in a farm field three miles south of here Tuesday, but both occupants escaped without serious injury.

The pilot of the C-47, Capt. John Outley, and Maj. R. E. George, co-pilot, were hospitalized at the base, however, as a precautionary measure.

The plane was not extensively damaged.

The Air Force did not give a reason for the forced landing.

Planes Chop Hanoi-China Rail Lines

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — American fighter-bombers again chopped up the two North Vietnamese rail lines between Hanoi and Communist China, the U.S. military command reported today.

In simultaneous blows at the vital supply links, Air Force F-105 Thunderchiefs pounded the northwest line 102 miles from Hanoi Tuesday while others bombed the northeast line 55 miles from the capital.

Ground fighting slowed to scattered small actions, but reports of Viet Cong terrorism aimed at disrupting national elections Sunday came from several sections of the country.

U.S. Air Force, Navy and Marine pilots flew 136 multiple missions against North Viet Nam Tuesday, 20 short of their record. They hit oil depots, supply areas, a missile site and barges as well as the major rail lines.

The pilots bombed and strafed a 15-car train on the northeast line, destroying five box cars and damaging one and cutting the line in three places, the spokesman said.

On the northwest or Red River route, other Thunderchief pilots reported knocking out a bridge and ripping up the rails in three places.

Pilots reported bomb hits on three fuel dumps and said they damaged or destroyed 24 buildings, 16 bridges, 45 cargo barges, 13 junks and three aircraft carrier sites. Navy fighters from the aircraft carrier Intrepid reported knocking out a surface-to-air missile site eight miles southwest of the coastal city of Vinh.

Sawyer Wins Third Term in Nevada

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. Grant Sawyer of Nevada has won Democratic renomination for a third term after a primary election campaign that focused on gambling operations.

In another primary election Tuesday, an Iowa State University history professor breezed to the Democratic nomination for senator and a fellow faculty member held a slim lead in the race for the Republican gubernatorial nomination.

In North Dakota, a member of the John Birch Society was defeated by the Republican organization's choice in a battle for a GOP congressional nomination.

Sawyer rolled up 55 per cent of the vote in sweeping past five opponents. He will be bidding for an unprecedented third term in the Nov. 8 general election when he faces Lt. Gov. Paul Laxalt, the only Republican holding major state office in Nevada. Laxalt swamped his one primary opponent Tuesday.

In the campaign, Sawyer contended the Justice Department had conducted "silent warfare" against Nevada gambling while Robert F. Kennedy was attorney general. His opponents charged Sawyer had allowed a breakdown in gambling control.

Democratic Rep. Walter S. Baring won renomination for an eighth term as Nevada's lone House member, defeating Ralph Denton, a Boulder City and Las Vegas attorney.

A Las Vegas engineer, Ralph Kraemer, won the GOP congressional nomination from Steve Kostelac, a demolition contractor.

In Iowa, Prof. E. B. Smith handily won the Democratic nomination to oppose Sen. Jack Miller in the general election; Miller breezed past Herbert F. Hoover, a farmer and distant cousin of the late president who campaigned on a peace platform.

In the race for Iowa's GOP gubernatorial nomination, economics Prof. William G. Murray led Centerville newspaper publisher Robert K. Beck by 921 votes — 87,092 to 86,171 — in complete, unofficial returns. But Murray did not immediately claim victory and Beck did not concede defeat.

The winner will meet Democratic Gov. Harold E. Hughes, unopposed for renomination, in the general election.
